

DayBed is simple and sleek. The high quality of fabrics and finishings combine in a language of clean lines of the oak structure, which offers free space for the enveloping comfort of the mattress—a timeless style and identity suited to any surroundings, providing a pleasant opportunity for healing relaxation.

Adjustable backrest: The perfect combination of living and bedding finds its expression in the backrest which can be adjusted to various positions. In the raised position it becomes the perfect seating for relaxing during the day, while it can be used as an actual bed when flat.

Oak structure: The oak base gives the bed a natural feel through its simple yet attractive design. The varnished base and the feet for raising the seat also allow DayBed to be used in damp environments, such as next to the pool.

Versatile panel: The wooden panel under the backrest optimises space usage, offering a functional support for personal items while relaxing.

Comfort and an eye for detail: Rounded corners, soft filling, a seam that separates the backrest from the seat make the DayBed a comfortable, wide and a soothing place to sit or lie that evokes memories of well-being.
